

ADAM AND EVE HAD CHILDREN, AND THEIR CHILDREN MARRIED EACH OTHER AND HAD CHILDREN. MAN BEGAN "TO FILL THE EARTH."

In those days, men had many children because they lived to be hundreds of years old. Perhaps, in part, because the water vapor canopy that God placed "above the firmament" blocked out the aging effects of the Sun's powerful rays. Sadly, however, as man increased in numbers he became ever more sinful, until his thoughts were "only evil continually." And "the Earth was filled with violence." So God chose to destroy the world—all but a faithful man named Noah, his family, and the air-breathing land creatures that God sent aboard a huge ship, the Ark.
