FOSSILS TELL US ABOUT DINOSAURS THAT ONCE LIVED UPON THE EARTH.

Dinosaurs were creatures that once lived upon the earth. Most of what is known about dinosaurs has been learned from studying their fossils. Fossils are the hard remains of living things that have been found in rocks. Scientists take great care in digging fossil bones out of the rock that surrounds them. And on rare occasions, they find enough bones to make a complete skeleton. Perhaps you have seen dinosaur skeletons in a museum.
